1. The letter mail is to be carried on herseback at the greatest practicable apoed, and the residue of the mail in wagons, or otherwise, at a slower rate of speed. Bidders will state in their proposals the schedule of arrivals and departures by which they propose to run, and the rate of speed to be accomplished. The proposals may set forth distinct sums for the letter and for the other mails, or a combined one for the other service.

that sums for the letter and for the other mails, or a combined one for the entire service.

2. No pay will be made for trips not performed; and for each of such mails on the statement of the pay of the trip may be deducted. For arrivals so far behind time as to break connexion with depending mails, and not sufficiently excussed, one-fourth of the compensation for the trip is subject to forfeiture.

3. For leaving behind or throwing of the mails, or any portion of them, for the admission of passengers, or for being concerned in setting up or raunting an express conveying intelligence in advance of the mail, a quarter's pay may be deducted.

4. The Postmaster General may annot the contract for repeated failures to run agreeably to contract; for violating the post office laws, or disobeying the instructions of the department; for refusing to discharge a carrier when required by the department to do so; for assigning the contract without the assent of the Postmaster General; for running an express as aforesals; or for transporting persons or packages conveying mailable matter out of the mail.

5. Each bit must be guarantied by two responsible persons. Generals seedined and success good and sufficient reasons therefore are accessed by the department.

8. A modification of a bid in any of its essential terms is tantamount to a new bid, and cannot be received, so as to interfere with a regular competition, after the last hour set for receiving bids.

9. Postmasters are to be careful not to certify the sufficiency of guarantors or sureties without knowing that they are persons of sufficient responsibility; and all bidders, guarantors, and sureties are distinctly neithed that, on a failure to enter into or perform the contracts for the service proposed for in the accepted bids, their legal liabilities are discovered against them.

THE ATTENTION of the community generally, and of house-builders particularly, is invited to the Keystone Heater, lately patented by J. D. Green, of Philadelphia.

All persons interested are solicited to call at our store and satisfy themselves of the superiority of this, heater over all others in use. So successfully have the principles of combustion been applied in its construction, that atthough it presents a radiating surface of one hundred and fifty square feet, it requires thirty per cent. less coal than any turnace heretofore manufactured.

Every improvement that an experience of thirty years in the furnace business could suggest has been applied in the production of the Keystone Heater, and its proprietors feel assured that, for efficiency and economy of use, it is unsurpassed.

My dear ser: I have been pleased to meet with you once more after the large of so many years; and I desire to avail mysself of an early opportunity to add my thanks to those you must have received from many others for your labor and care in the compilation of the laws of the United States relating to pensions and bounty lands, a copy of the sterrectype edition of which I have in my possession.

The subject of pensions is one which has been, and still continues to be, of interest to the great American family. The circumstances under which those for revolutionary services were provided are of a highly interesting character.*

It was never the design of our fathers that the system should be partial, giving to some while it withholds from others equally deserving. Your arrangement of the laws, therefore, while it presents in decinithe provisions made, is at the same time suggestive of those dediciencies and omissions which reader the system incomplete.

Your work I have found of incalculable value to me in my position as chairman of the Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, for, without I, I should have been subjected to the labor of a close examination of the statuter; and from the frequency of my recurrence to it I have been able to test its merit and appreciate its worth.

DEAR SE: I thank you for the very useful volume you have sent me. I have had time only to glance over it, but I have satisfied myself of its fidelity as well as of its value.

Your supplement contains important additions, and brings the pension hi tory and laws to a late period.

The system has become so extensive that some such compilation was indispensable, and I congratulate all who are obliged to look into the subject of those laws upon the able execution of your labors.

I am, dear sir, respectfully yours,
